

CHAPTER CXIII.

An Act granting certain salt, marsh and tide lands of the State to the City of Oakland.

[Approved February 18, 1874.]

The People of the State of California, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Oakland
water park: SECTION 1. The interest of the State of California in those lands situate in the City of Oakland, known and described as lots numbered one to nine, inclusive, in section thirty-six, and lots eleven to fourteen, inclusive, in section twenty-five, in township one south, range four west, Mount Diablo meridian, United States survey, as the same are laid down on the official map, entitled "Map number three of the salt, marsh and tide lands situate in the County of Alameda," prepared by order of the Board of Tide Land Commissioners, and surveyed under the direction of G. F. Allardt, Chief Engineer of the Tide Land Survey, is hereby granted to the City of Oakland, in trust, for the use of the people thereof, and of the people of the State, as a water park.

SEC. 2. The City of Oakland shall have no power to convey, ^{Not to be} incumber, or lease any of the said lands, or grant the use of ^{sold.} any of the same, for any purpose whatever, but shall cause the same to be kept and maintained for the purposes mentioned in the first section of this Act, and for none other. In case the said city shall attempt to convey, incumber, lease, or grant any use of any of said lands, the same shall revert to the people of the State; and the Attorney General may bring an action to enforce a reconveyance of the same to the State.

SEC. 3. This Act shall take effect immediately.
